The Arts in the Heart of Augusta Festival is designed to introduce attendees to the diverse cultural tapestry that makes Augusta great. The Greater Augusta Arts Council strives to present a balanced selection of performances showcasing the best music, dance and theatre and spoken word found in our area. We do not pay performers at the festival. We hope the exposure you and your group will receive will be compensation enough. Thank you for considering a performance at the Arts in the Heart of Augusta Festival.

This year all 4 stages will all be located on the Festival Site. The Global Stage will highlight the ethnic performances as well as larger, diverse entertainment. The Global Stage can accommodate large groups and dance performances. The Family Stage is for any performance that will appeal to children and families. This stage is covered and has a floor that can accommodate dancers. The Community Stage, located near 9th Street is perfect for any type of musical or dramatic performance. This year we will provide tent cover for the stage and audience ensuring the “show will go on”! On Friday and Saturday evenings we present a line-up of local bands. The Troubadour Stage will be located close to the Literary Tent and feature mainly workshops for writers. We will be accepting limited spoken word and literary performances including: poetry, storytelling, songwriters & dramatic interpretations. First preference will be given to authors from the Literary Tent. (Application on-line)
